

O.W.N. - A Thinking Routine for Developing Reflection, Self-Assessment and Goal Setting with Digital Student Portfolios

Observe

(Taking a step back from the work and notice & name qualities of student work)

Possible prompts for reflection:

- Why are you including this piece in your portfolio?
- What makes it stand out among your body of work?
- To what extent does this work best represent your understanding?

Goals: Affirmation and celebration

Wonder

(Taking a closer look at student work with a constructive and critical eye)

Possible prompts for self-assessment:

- What might a friend or classmate say about this work?
- How does this work compare to your previous pieces you have included?
- If you had to change one part of this piece, what would it be? Why?

Goals: Self-critique and deeper understanding

Next Steps

(Taking a look forward in order to build on current knowledge and set goals for the future)

Possible prompts for goal setting:

- In what area(s) do you want to improve on for the future?
- How will you grow as a learner in the future?
- What do you need in the future to continue learning in this area?

Goals: Habit building and appreciation for lifelong learning

**Younger children may need adult support. Older students could do this independently.*
